We have formally begun the search process for the next president of Baltimore City Community College. This search is an opportunity for the College to shape its future direction by choosing new leadership and an important part of this process is being thoughtful and deliberate. We have invited the Association of Community College Trustees (ACCT), who will help guide the process. ACCT and the Board are committed to a smooth, transparent, and inclusive search process which will begin immediately.

As part of the search process, we are seeking your valuable insight and input into the future direction of the College and the ideal characteristics of a new president. We will use the information you provide to build a Presidential Profile, which describes the important challenges and opportunities that face Baltimore City Community College, as well as the qualifications and characteristics we’re looking for in our next leader. The Presidential Profile will be used as the foundation of a broad, inclusive, transparent, and high profile national search to attract the very best candidates to be considered as the new president of Baltimore City Community College.

We want you to be a part of the process. We will be announcing the dates and times of several open public forums designed to solicit the input of all members of the College and the broader community as we embark on this journey. We will also be sending out an electronic survey to collect feedback from people who may be unable to attend the forums. Selecting and appointing a president is one of the Board’s greatest responsibilities, and we look forward to your support of the process.
